

Hermes Bear....

This has been an exciting week for me. I have navigated my way through Magdala. I learned about the story of Mary Magdalene. Did you know that she was the first disciple to see Jesus after his resurrection? She is an amazing woman and she has a wonderful story to tell about her life. She was always a caring person and she was such a good friend to Jesus (It's a shame that history doesn't always tell her story in a positive way!). Can you name three ways that show how you can be a good friend to someone?

I also spent some time thinking about Christian Aid last week. Usually, we celebrate Christian Aid with a big coffee morning. All of the local churches come together. It's a great place to meet friends and to make new friends. Here is a picture of some of our friends from Wardie selling cakes in our Church Centre. Can you name the cakes? I can see at least five of my favourites. I wonder if you can guess them?

You can see Lorna in the next picture.  She is selling some items to raise money for Christian Aid. Can you find the Candles and the cards?

Margaret & Anne have been busy with their fundraising too. Margaret always makes a quiz to keep us all 'on our toes.' I wonder if you can spot the jam on the table? If you look closely at it you can see its flavour. I like marmalade best, but strawberry is my 2nd favourite. I can name 5 types of jam. How many can you name?

All this talk of marmalade and jam is making me hungry so I'm going to get some lunch and think about my next adventure.

Kirsten has added a link to a dvd of Mary of Magdala and some crafts from Christian Aid. Click on the links and have some fun.

<https://www.christianaid.org.uk/schools/primary-teaching-resources>

<https://vimeo.com/30378844>